Big Picture Invitation

Give yourself just two minutes with Deann Hammer and instantly you'll know she's the designer for you.

Everything about her seems to extend beyond old and warm invitation to lay aside your inhibitions and think outside the box. Described as open-minded and versatile, Deann brings a singular vision to each project: she wants to create timeless spaces that are intensely personal and inviting.

So often, clients will ask, "How did you get into my mind and my soul? How did you figure out so quickly who I am?" says Deann. Her answer: With more than three decades in the construction and design industry, Deann has learned that she simply has a gift for seeing people and knowing their vision.

"I'm also a doer who is hyper-focused on getting to the finish line on time and with a reasonable budget," she says. "I'm hands-on and have a direct, no-nonsense approach to design. As a General Contractor for 20 years, I know how things should be built, and as a designer, I don't design things that can't be done. I'm always looking for ways to connect the home's story to its surroundings—the outdoor landscape, its neighborhood. With me, it's always about the big picture."
